

Where it's going next...

Couple UAV work to theory on spatial organization and pattern formation

Develop early warning framework for plant water stress derived from high-resolution thermal imagery

Develop a conservation ecohydrology agenda capable of supporting the adaptive management of critical dryland landscapes

